STATEMENT OF CAPABILITIES

Transportation

We facilitate effective, collaborative sessions that address diverse interests to achieve results and help teams to accomplish great things together. Our team of facilitators from across the USA has deep experience in leading internal and external meetings of all sizes. We specialize in developing consensus, building effective teamwork, strategic planning, public policy formation, community engagement, process improvement and environmental justice. The methodologies we use are research proven, tested and used across a variety in industries and situations. We have helped hundreds of federal, state and local government agencies work through sticky issues, remove barriers and build inclusive solutions that drive positive change.

Past Performance Examples:

California Fuel Cell Partnership (CaFCP) – Designed and facilitated strategic planning and built consensus with auto, energy, & environmental stakeholders to develop the roll out of fuel cell vehicles and hydrogen stations in California.

Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) – Designed and facilitated community meetings and advisory group sessions that developed a consensus on the preferred alternative alignment of the Eastern Bypass Project. Designed community participant selection process, alternative analysis, & large community information sessions.

Plug In Vehicle (PEV) Collaborative – Designed and facilitated session.

Quote from Christine Kehoe, Executive Director, PEV Collaborative "We could not have reached consensus on ten strategies from our 46 collaborative members in less than two hours without the help of The Kolbe Company's fresh approach. The facilitated session generated informative and thought-provoking results. We were also surprised and pleased by the enthusiasm and energy generated by the facilitator."

Minnesota - St. Paul's East Side - Engaged under-represented communities to improve access to high-quality transit in response to the American recovery and reinvestment act. Working with the East Side Prosperity campaign, convened neighbors, organizations, and city, county, and state officials for productive dialogue that influenced the demographic make-up of the community advisory committee for the gateway corridor/gold line project. Initiated a surge of political will to engage social justice communities in infrastructure planning for years to come.

California Department of Transportation – Executed a fully integrated multi-media campaign to change driving behavior near highway work zones. The two-year campaign drove 77,700,000+ views to the new campaign website. The CalTrans "Be Work Zone Alert" campaign was won the American Road & Transportation Builders Association's (ARTBA) Roadway Work Zone Safety Awareness Award.
